

The Artists' Studio Program – General Information

FVAC Mission Statement

The Farmington Valley Arts Center is enriching lives through art. We are dedicated to cultivating a community where people can create, learn, exhibit, exchange ideas and inspire each other. We welcome and support participants of all ages, abilities, and backgrounds on their personal artistic journey.

The Farmington Valley Arts Center

The Farmington Valley Arts Center (FVAC), established in 1974, is a nonprofit creative community whose mission is to support the entire artistic process. The Farmington Valley Arts Center fulfills this mission by providing a multifaceted environment for artists and the general public. Professional artists pursue their art and craft in 17 studios where the public is invited to witness the creative process. One of these studios is dedicated to our Artist-in-Residence program in support of emerging artists. A year-round schedule of diverse educational programming in the visual arts is offered for adults and children. Two galleries are open to the public, featuring local art and craft for exhibition and sale. The Farmington Valley Arts Center hosts monthly open studios and a variety of other events throughout the year.

The Artists' Studio Program

Overview: The FVAC Artists' Studio Program exists to provide professional and emerging artists with working space in an artistic community. Studio artists work in a rental space that is open to the public at times of the Arts Center's special events and programming, and at the artist's discretion. The program showcases a diversity of talents, and artists from a broad spectrum of disciplines may choose to work together and share ideas. In conjunction with the pursuit of their art, artists participate in and contribute to the Farmington Valley Arts Center's mission.

Eligibility: Artistic talent and commitment to one's art and to the mission of the Farmington Valley Arts Center are the criteria for acceptance into the Artists' Studio Program. Emerging and mid-career artists and artisans of promising talent are encouraged to apply. As part of the process, applicants are required to complete the necessary forms, and present their work to a jury of FVAC representatives.

The Artist and Farmington Valley Arts Center: FVAC's Commitment to the Artist

Studio Space and Artistic Community

- FVAC provides a supportive artistic environment and the infrastructure for creating a successful studio program.
- FVAC provides professional working space in which to create art. All studio artists must use the studio as work space as described in this application.
- Studio space can only be used in the spirit of meeting FVAC's mission. Space may NOT be used to display or sell the work of non-FVAC studio artists.
- FVAC provides 17 studios leased by artists with shared interests and concerns.

- FVAC provides two galleries and year-round arts education programs, workshops and events for all ages.
- Studio Artists have created The Studio Artists' Association (SAA) to support their professional development and build community. FVAC encourages studio artists to join the SAA.
- Office equipment such as a copier are available for artists' use.

Marketing Support & Representation

- FVAC organizes, hosts, and promotes special events (such as monthly Saturday open studios) that showcase the artists and provide public exposure.
- Programs and events are posted on the website and communicated via eblasts and social media platforms.
- FVAC's website provides studio artists' contact information, bio and links to personal websites.

The Artist and Farmington Valley Arts Center: The Artist's Commitment to FVAC

The Artists' Studio Program is a core component of FVAC. Artists share their talent through unique and original artwork, and provide the public with an opportunity to meet and see them in their creative process. FVAC Artists work in a variety of disciplines that range from fine art to functional crafts to more conceptual uses of materials and ideas. The artist works toward both the advancement of personal career goals and in support of FVAC's mission by:

- Continuously working toward artistic and professional development.
- Paying a rental fee for studio space.
- Making their studio space reasonably available to the public to promote FVAC's mission.
- Participating in events such as First Saturdays Open Studios to gain more public exposure and expand public appreciation of the arts.
- Participating in optional activities such as workshops, informal meetings and critiques with other artists, as offered.
- Teaching private students in their studios or teaching classes/workshops as FVAC instructors, if desired.
- Contributing to a positive, cooperative, mutually beneficial, and respectful atmosphere of the FVAC community.

Rental Fees

Studios are approximately 525 square feet and rental rates are $700 per month which includes water, heat, electricity, and parking. FVAC offers a one-year auto-renewable lease and all accepted applicants must be prepared to enter into a one-year contract.
